

tunnels and underground structures pdf

A tunnel is an underground passageway, dug through the surrounding soil/earth/rock and enclosed except for entrance and exit, commonly at each end. A pipeline is not a tunnel, though some recent tunnels have used immersed tube construction techniques rather than traditional tunnel boring methods.. A tunnel may be for foot or vehicular road traffic, for rail traffic, or for a canal.

2.1. Economic costs. Pre-construction costs can be considerable and include ground investigations and survey work required before the physical construction of the utility takes place. As an integral part of this stage, asset location can attract large costs due to limitations associated with soil type, utility type and depth (Sterling, 2000, Thomas et al., 2008).
