The self is an individual person as the object of his or her own reflective consciousness. This reference is necessarily subjective, thus self is a reference by a subject to the same subject. The sense of having a self " or self-hood " should, however, not be confused with subjectivity itself. Ostensibly, there is a directedness outward from the subject that refers inward, back to its ...

The self-esteem quilt is made up of two parts: HIGH self-esteem and LOW self-esteem. The lesson begins with a story (i.e. Loretta Ace Pinky Scout) that highlights the differences between the two. After a class discussion, I have students draw what high self-esteem looks like at school and what low self-esteem looks like at school.
